SECTION 1: PROCEDURES AND
STANDARDS

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this section, shall have the following meanings:

ACT - The County Records Act of August 14, 1963 (P.L. 839, No. 407) (16 P.S. 13001-13006) as amended.

ARCHIVES - The Commission's Division of Archival and Records Management Services (State Archives).

COMMISSION - The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission (PHMC).

COMMITTEE - The County Records Committee.

Purpose

This manual has been issued to inform certain county administrative, fiscal and judicial officers of the opportunity to legally dispose of records in accordance with the provisions of the County Records Act and Rule of Judicial Administration Pa.R.J.A. No. 507(a). (See Appendix I)

The Program

In the last fifty years, there has been a tremendous increase in the amount of records being created and maintained by county governments. New health and human service programs, increasing judicial case loads, and the introduction of new methods of duplicating records are primarily responsible for this proliferation of documentation. As a result of this "records explosion", county governments have had to spend more money to create, store and access information. An effective records management program can reduce the cost of creating, storing, and retrieving records and can increase productivity by saving staff time. Recognition of the need for a workable local government records management program in Pennsylvania led to the passage of the County Records Act of 1963. The act established the County Records Committee which is composed of representatives of certain county offices, the Commission, attorneys, and the general public. The Committee is currently chaired by the judicial representative of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Under the act, the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is designated as the agency responsible for assisting the County Records Committee and administering its local records program. The Commission, working through its Division of Archival and Records Management Services (the State Archives) in carrying out these records functions, seeks and utilizes the assistance of county and state officials and others knowledgeable in this area.

The Committee's primary responsibility is to develop records retention schedules and disposition procedures for certain county offices. In counties of the second thru eighth class, county administrative and fiscal officers are authorized by the act to dispose of records in accordance with schedules and procedures which have been approved by the Committee.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is responsible for promulgating records retention schedules and disposition procedures for the records of the entire unified judicial system. Under the terms of Rule of Judicial Administration Pa.R.J.A. No. 507(a), the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts (AOPC) has delegated part of that responsibility to the County Records Committee and has directed Common Pleas Court Prothonotaries, Clerks of Courts, Clerks of Orphans' Courts, Registers of Wills, District Attorneys, Sheriffs, Coroners and Jury Commissioners or their Home-Rule equivalents to dispose of records in conformance with the applicable records retention schedules and disposition procedures which have been approved by the Committee. Other unified judicial system personnel not covered by Pa.R.J.A. No. 507(a) should contact the AOPC or the State Archives for information on how to legally dispose of records.

County Records

The County Records Act defines county records as "any papers, dockets, books, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received in any office of county government in pursuance of law or in connection with transactions of public business in the exercise of its legitimate functions and the discharge of its responsibilities."

Retention periods listed in the County Records Manual apply to information in all forms and formats. The fact that information is created and stored electronically or on microfilm rather than on paper has no bearing on its retention status. All information included under the definition of a county record must be disposed of in accordance with the County Records Act and disposition procedures approved by the County Records Committee.

Procedures for the Destruction or Transfer of County Records

Records may be destroyed or transferred in conformance with the provisions of Sections 3, 4 and 4.1 of the County Records Act. According to Section 5, a county officer who disposes of public records in accordance with the provisions of the County Records Act cannot be held liable on his/her official bond or in the way of damages for loss or in any other manner, civil or criminal, because of the disposition of public records pursuant to the provisions of this act.

The act requires that, when disposing of records, county officers shall:

1. Follow the schedules and procedures prescribed by the County Records Committee as contained in the County Records Manual. It is to be understood that the records schedules authorize and recommend, but do not require the disposal of records after the expiration of approved retention periods. Unless otherwise noted, the retention periods refer to the length of time the records must be retained after filing. Microfilm copies may be substituted for both permanent and non-permanent records unless otherwise noted in the schedule.
2. Receive written consent from the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission before destroying records scheduled for permanent retention which have been copied in compliance with Committee standards and guidelines, before destroying records not listed on the schedule or before transferring records to the State Archives.

Counties requesting permission to transfer or destroy records which meet these criteria must submit a records disposal certification request form in duplicate to the Commission's Division of Archival and Records Management Services. Forms may be obtained from the Division at the address at the end of this section (See Appendix II for sample). If the disposal request involves records not listed on the schedule, care should be taken to provide a complete explanation of the nature and content of the records in the area titled "Description of Record If Not On Schedule." Requests to dispose of records scheduled for permanent retention must be accompanied by appropriate microfilm quality inspection report forms relating to the disposal request. Even though a suitable microfilm copy has been made, Commission approval must be obtained before destroying or transferring permanently valuable records unless otherwise noted in the schedule.

3. Maintain a log of individual disposition actions involving non-permanent records (See Appendix II for sample). Copies of the records disposal log form shall be submitted on an annual basis to the Commission's Division of Archival and Records Management Services. Written consent from the PHMC is not necessary before destroying non-permanent records as identified in the schedule.

Historically valuable public records are public property and should remain in public custody. Such records should be maintained in a county operated archives/records center. If a county cannot adequately care for its own historical records, provisions may be made to transfer select inactive records of historical value to the State Archives in accordance with the State Administrative Code.

Records are scheduled for permanent retention by county governments, either in the original or microfilm form (unless otherwise noted), if they have continuing administrative and legal value. Such records are also historically valuable. The fact that records are not scheduled for permanent retention in the County Records Manual does not necessarily mean they do not have any historical value or that the State Archives would not be interested in accessioning some of these records. For example, some records might be historically valuable merely because of their age, since relatively few early records have survived to the present.

Aviation Managers' Logs, individual Fire Reports, Photographs, Campaign Expense Reports, superseded Tax and Planning Maps, are examples of some short term county records which could be selected for transfer because of their historical value. Also, records which relate to obsolete county functions such as Animal Bounty Affidavits; Applications for Tavern Licenses; and Automobile, Medical and Veterinary Registers have historical value and should be maintained in an archives. Questions regarding the possible historical value of county records should be referred to the Commission's Division of Archival and Records Management Services (State Archives).

Advice and assistance in connection with the application of this Manual may be obtained by writing or calling the:

AUDIT REQUIREMENTS, FEDERAL AND STATE STATUTES AND ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

- 1. Records subject to audit must be retained for the periods listed in the schedule and must be audited and all findings resolved before such records may be destroyed. Applicable Federal and State statutes and administrative regulations may necessitate retaining records for a longer period of time than indicated in the schedule. Information on specific program regulations should be obtained from the appropriate administering/funding/licensing agency.
- 2. Records involved in any litigation must be retained until final disposition of the case even if they have met the minimum retention requirements.

POLICY AND GUIDELINES FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF ELECTRONIC RECORDS INCLUDING ELECTRONIC MAIL (E-MAIL) SYSTEMS

1. Purpose

Establish and clarify a records management policy for county officers with respect to the creation, use, maintenance, scheduling and disposition of electronic records including those created on e-mail systems.

2. Objectives

2.1 To ensure the efficient administration and management of electronic records and the preservation of those having long-term or permanent value.

2.2 To help ensure the accuracy, usability, longevity and legal acceptance of electronic records maintained by county offices.

2.3 To ensure the accessibility of electronic records in conformance with schedules approved by the County Records Committee.

3. Scope

Applies to all county officers covered by the County Records Act and by Supreme Court Rule of Judicial Administration Pa. R.J.A. No. 507(a).

4. Definitions

Analog – Information in human readable form. It may be a duplicate, enlarged or reduced in size from the original.

AIIM – The Association for Information and Image Management, a standards setting body affiliated with the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), which is the principal developer of standards for microform and information storage technologies involving images.

ANSI –The American National Standards Institute, a private standards organization in the United States which coordinates the development and maintenance of various industry standards

Binary Digit (bit) – represents the binary code (0 or 1) with which the computer works. A number of bits together are used to represent a character in the computer.

Computer-Output Microfilm (COM) – Microforms containing data produced by a recorder from computer-generated signals.

Data – Symbols or representations of facts or ideas that can be communicated, interpreted, or processed by manual or automated means. Often associated with electronic data or with statistics or measurements.

Data Base – A set of data, consisting of at least one file or a group of integrated files, usually stored in one location and made available to several users at the same time for various applications.

Density – The number of bits in a single linear track measured per unit of length of the recording medium.

Electronic – Relating to technology having electronic, digital, magnetic, wireless, optical, electromagnetic or similar capabilities.

Electronic Record – A record created, generated, sent, communicated, received or stored by electronic means, including numeric, graphic, and text information recorded on any medium capable of being read by a computer which satisfies the definition of a record as defined in the County Record Act.

Electronic Mail (e-mail) System – A system that enables users to compose, transmit, receive, and manage text and/or graphic electronic messages and images across local area networks and through gateways connecting other networks. This information consists primarily of messages, but may include attachments such as calendars, directories, distribution lists, word processing documents, spreadsheets, and other electronic documents.

Image – (1) A representation of information produced by light/radiant energy. (2) In electronic imaging, a digital representation of a document.

Information – Data and documents that have been given value through analysis, interpretation or compilation in a meaningful form.

Information System – Logical group of subsystems and data required to support the data needs of one or more business processes.

Magnetic Media- Variety of magnetically coated materials used by computers in electronic systems for data and program storage. This includes, but is not limited to: computer tapes, disks, diskettes and other electronic storage devices containing records.

Microfilm – (1) A fine-grain, high-resolution film used to record images reduced in size from the original. (2) A microform consisting of strips of film on rolls that contain multiple microimages. (3) To record microphotographs on film.

Microform –A form, usually film that contains microimages.

Offline – Logically or physically disconnected from the computer. For example a reel of tape is offline storage.

Pixel – Smallest element of a display surface that can be independently assigned color or intensity.

Raster Computer Output Microfilm (RCOM) – Device that produces microforms from any computer-managed pixel image storage device.

Receipt Data – Information in e-mail systems regarding date and time of receipt of a message and/or acknowledgment of receipt or access by addressee(s).

Record-keeping System – A system (manual or electronic) for organizing and identifying records to speed their retrieval, use and disposition and to provide adequate documentation of the county's functions and business transactions.

Records: Vital – Records regardless of archival value that are essential to functions of government during and after an emergency. Also those records essential to protect the rights and interests of that organization and of the individuals for whose rights and interests it has responsibility.

System – Organized collection of hardware, software, supplies, people, maintenance, training and policies to accomplish a set of specific functions.

Transmission Data – Information in e-mail systems regarding the identification of sender and addressee(s), and the date and time messages were sent.

5. Policy

5.1 Electronic records may be disposed of only in accordance with schedules approved by the County Records Committee.

5.2 Permanent records are those records which have been scheduled for permanent retention either in the original or microform copy by the County Records Committee or by applicable statute and regulation. Long-term records are any records that need to be retained for more than ten years.

5.3 County officers are responsible for making provisions to retain either paper copies of permanently valuable electronic records, or making archival security microform copies to serve as a substitute. Archival security microform copies must be created and maintained in conformance with applicable standards approved by the County Records Committee.

5.4 In those instances where an electronic record is the original medium for records scheduled for permanent retention, such as the procedural or transactional recording of deeds, provisions must be made to provide paper copies of such records or to create archival security microfilm copies of the records. Provisions shall be made to protect permanently valuable databases such as indexes and docketing records by converting the information to paper copy or archival security microfilm when the databases are moved offline. The use of raster computer output microfilm meeting appropriate standards is acceptable as the security copy (see ANSI/AIIM MS48).

5.5 Offices that receive and use confidential information, as defined by applicable laws, shall take appropriate measures to maintain the confidentiality of the records in order to protect the privacy of individuals, employees, taxpayers, clients or service recipients.

5.6 County officers do not have to make provisions to retain non-permanent records in electronic format in a human readable form. However, county officers are strongly encouraged to consider the advantages of generating a microform copy of certain nonpermanent electronic records if they are of sufficient vital importance or when reformatting provides a more cost effective approach to the long-term maintenance of the records.

5.7 All records, whether created or stored on electronic systems must be retrievable and available for the retention period listed on records retention and disposition schedules approved by the County Records Committee.

5.8 County officers shall retain and dispose of E-mail messages and attachments that meet the definition of records in conformance with retention schedules approved by the County Records Committee. E-mail messages and attachments that do not meet the definition of records and are not subject to litigation and other legal proceedings should be deleted immediately after they are read.

5.9 Records may be deleted from an e-mail system if their required retention period has expired or after they have been copied to a records keeping system. Records may be maintained on a manual or electronic record-keeping system. Records shall include transmission or receipt data.

5.10 When duplicate copies of E-mail messages are sent internally, the sender should be responsible for maintaining the primary copy for the full applicable retention period. All other copies should be disposed of in accordance with approved retention schedules relating to transitory messages.

5.11 E-mail messaging systems should not be used as a document storage or records management system. Storing E-mail messages within an E-mail system including personal folders is not sufficient to meet required retention and disposition schedules.

5.12 All copyright laws apply equally to E-mail (including attachments) or other electronic systems. Protection of copyrights requires the user to make to the greatest degree possible, a determination of authorship of any data utilized.

5.13 If a county government ceases to maintain the hardware and software necessary to satisfy the conditions of the policy and guidelines, records that are contained in the system will be deemed destroyed by the county government unless the existing records are converted to a human readable format or a format compatible with an electronic system that the county implements or continues to maintain.

5.14 The implementation and use of an electronic records keeping system should not limit or hinder public access to public records.

6. Procedures

6.1 County officers must maintain proper, up-to-date technical and system documentation for each information system that produces, uses, or stores electronic records. Minimum documentation required is: a narrative description of the system; physical and technical characteristics of the records; and any other technical information needed to read or process the records.

6.1.1 A county officer who maintains government records on electronic records keeping systems must provide for the usability of image and index data over time by:

6.1.1a Providing a method for all authorized users of the system to retrieve desired records.

6.1.1b Provide an appropriate level of security to ensure integrity of the records.

6.1.1c Provide a standard interchange format when necessary to permit the exchange of records on electronic media using different software/operating systems and allow for the conversion or migration of records from one system to another.

6.1.1d Provide for the disposition of the records according to retention requirements approved by the County Records Committee.

6.1.1e Establish procedures for regular copying, reformatting, and other necessary maintenance to ensure the retention and usability of electronic records throughout their required retention period.

6.1.1f Similar security precautions required of paper records must be employed when destroying or reusing electronic media that contain privacy-protected or confidential information. Electronic storage media containing such information must be electronically wiped clean or physically destroyed in such a manner that the information cannot be reconstructed.

6.2 Before a record that will serve as the official copy is created and maintained on electronic systems, records must be identified sufficiently to enable authorized personnel to retrieve, protect, and carry out the disposition of records in the system. County officers should ensure that records maintained in such systems can be correlated with related records on paper, microfilm, or other media.

6.3 County governments that do not have the technical capability to manage e-mail messages for the full retention period in an electronic format shall create an analog copy (paper or microfilm). In addition to the content, the following information shall be retained about each message: name of sender, name of recipient, date and time of transmission and/or receipt. Records printed from e-mail systems shall be filed in accordance with standard office procedures.

6.4 County governments shall establish standards/procedures to manage the storage of records on e-mail and shall not rely on e-mail server backup procedures to manage the retention and disposition of records created in e-mail systems.

7. Legal Admissibility of Electronic Records

To enhance legal admissibility of records in electronic format and help ensure county records maybe used as evidence in court proceedings, trustworthiness must be established by thoroughly documenting the record keeping system's operation and the controls imposed on it. To implement procedures to enhance the legal admissibility of electronic records, county officers should:

7.1 Document that similar kinds of records generated and stored electronically are created by the same processes each time and have a standardized retrieval approach.

7.2 Substantiate that security procedures prevent unauthorized addition, modification or deletion of a record and ensure system protection against such problems as power interruptions.

7.3 Identify the electronic media on which records are stored throughout their lifecycle and the maximum time span that records must remain on each storage medium in order to comply with minimum retention periods as cited in the County Records Manual.

7.4 Coordinate all of the above with legal counsel, information managers, and records management staff.

8. Security of Electronic Records

County officers shall implement and maintain an effective records security program that incorporates the following to:

8.1 Ensure that only authorized personnel have access to electronic records.

8.2 Provide for backup and recovery of records to protect against information loss.

Documented disaster recovery plans and procedures shall be established for all electronic records systems. Disaster recovery plans and procedures should be reviewed and updated at least annually.

8.3 Ensure that county personnel are trained to safeguard sensitive or classified electronic information.

8.4 Minimize the risk of unauthorized alteration or erasure of electronic records.

8.5 Ensure that electronic records security is included in a computer systems security plan.

9. Selection and Maintenance of Electronic Records Storage Media

County officers shall select appropriate media and systems for storing records throughout their life which meet the following requirements:

8.1 Specific requirements in selecting storage media.

8.1.1 Permit easy retrieval in a timely fashion.

8.1.2 Facilitate the distinction between records and non-records as defined in the County Records Act.

8.1.3 Retain the records in a usable format for the length of their required retention period.

8.1.4 When appropriate, meet requirements for transferring electronic records to the State Archives.

8.2 The following factors shall be considered before selecting a storage media or when converting from one medium to another:

8.2.1 The required retention period of the records.

8.2.2 The maintenance necessary to retain the records in that format.

8.2.3 The costs of storing and retrieving the records maintained in that format.

8.2.4 The density of the record.

8.2.5 The access time necessary to retrieve stored records.

8.2.6 The portability of the medium (selecting a medium that will run on equipment produced by multiple manufacturers) and the ability to transfer information from one medium to another as well as the flexibility of the software to be migrated into a different medium if desirable or necessary.

8.2.7 Compliance of the storage medium with current industry and or Federal standards if applicable.

8.3 County officers shall ensure that all authorized users can identify and retrieve information stored on removable disks or tapes by establishing or by adopting procedures for external labeling as well as procedures for computer library subsystems for storage media identification.

8.4 County officers shall ensure that information is not lost because of changing technology or deterioration by converting storage media to provide compatibility with the county's current hardware and software. Before conversion to a different medium, county officers shall determine that the authorized dispositions of the electronic records can be implemented after conversion.

8.5 County officers should back up electronic records on a regular basis to safeguard against the loss of information due to equipment malfunctions or human error. Duplicate copies of permanent records should be maintained in separate buildings. All security copies of vital electronic records, regardless of retention period, should be stored in a separate building.

8.6 For the maintenance of magnetic computer medium, county officers shall follow industry and national standards for safeguarding information.

STANDARDS FOR MICROFILMING COUNTY RECORDS

1. Authority

The standards were adopted by the County Records Committee in accordance with the County Records Act (16 P.S. 13001-13006).

2. Purpose

The standards are designed to help ensure the accuracy, usability, longevity and legal acceptance of microforms generated by county offices.

3. Scope

The standards relate to the filming, processing, inspection, handling and storage of microform copies, of records created by county offices covered by the County Records Act and Rule of Judicial Administration Pa. R.J.A. No. 507 (a). They must be included as part of the requirements in all microfilm service contracts. With minor exceptions, these standards are in strict conformance with American National Standards Institute (ANSI) and Association for Information and Image Management (AIIM) standards and practices. Raster Output Microforms are covered by the standards. Color films are not covered by the standards.

4. General Provisions

When a microform copy is to serve as or in place of the original record or is to serve as a security copy of the original record, the following general standards shall apply:

4.1 Microimages, including the generation intended for use by office staff or the general public, shall contain all of the recorded information shown on the originals and shall be able to serve the purpose for which the original records were created or maintained. Microimages shall be free of obstructions, shadows or glare which impair the legibility of a document.

4.2 Microimages of the records shall be arranged, identified and indexed so that any individual document or component of the records can be located with reasonable ease.

5. Creation of Archival Security Microfilm Copies of Permanent Records

5.1 All county records custodians engaged in, or contracting for, the microfilming of permanent records shall provide for the creation of an archival security microfilm copy of such records.

5.2 Permanent records are those records which have been scheduled for permanent retention either in the original or microfilm copy by the County Records Committee or by applicable statute and regulation.

5.3 An archival security microfilm copy is a copy which is created, used, inspected and stored in conformance with standards for archival security microfilm.

5.4. The original camera film (Master Negative) of records scheduled for permanent retention shall never be used for reference purposes and should normally be designated as the archival security microfilm copy. Silver-gelatin duplicate negatives or silver-gelatin duplicate positives that meet appropriate standards may serve as the security copy if necessary. If the original camera film is to be jacketed or cut for aperture cards, an uncut duplicate roll of silver halide film that meets the appropriate standards for security film shall be made and designated as the official security copy. Records custodians employing systems that do not produce an original silver-gelatin microfilm which meets permanency standards shall make a silver-gelatin duplicate negative or silver-gelatin duplicate positive which does meet these standards.

6. Film Stock, Processing and Quality Standards for Archival Security Microfilm Copies of Permanent Records

6.1 Film Stock Safety Photographic film as specified in ANSI/NAPM IT9.1-1992 and ANSI IT9.6 1991.

6.2 Density. Background densities of negative-appearing archival security microfilm copies shall, where possible, be between .9 and 1.2.

In certain instances, some poor-contrast documents may require lower densities in order to make the entire image legible and reproducible as mentioned in ANSI/AIIM MS23-1991. Densities of raster COM microforms should be adequate and uniform; all information must be reproduced accurately and completely so that its use will not be impaired. Raster COM microforms must meet all appropriate density standards. Background density on positive appearing negative camera film shall not exceed 0.35. The density of silver duplicate positives designated as the security copy shall be between 0.04 and 0.20 where possible. Background density of Computer Output Silver Gelatin (1N) Microfilm (full reversal processing) shall, where possible, be between 1.5-1.8 (1.8 preferred).

6.3 Base-plus-Fog Density. The base-plus-fog density of unexposed, processed, clear-based film shall not exceed 0.10. When a tinted-base film is used, the density will increase by 0.10 or 0.20 which must be added to the 0.10 value. The use of tinted, high fog base films is not recommended.

6.4 Resolution. A minimum resolution of 90 lines per millimeter shall be obtained regardless of reduction ratio used or the type of camera used, and the 4.0 pattern shall be resolved. In cases where raster COM microforms are reproduced, measurement of resolution and quality of raster COM film is determined in dots per inch. Raster COM microforms must meet all appropriate resolution standards. A paper print made from the third generation microfilm copy should be able to serve the same purpose for which the original records were created.

6.5 Residual Thiosulfate. Residual Thiosulfate ion concentration must be greater than zero but shall not exceed 0.014 grams per square meter in a clear area in accordance with ANSI/NAPM IT9.1-1992.

7. Identification, Technical, and Declaratory Targets for Roll Microfilm (See Appendix III)

7.1 All roll microfilm shall include targets which adequately identify the records and targets needed to check for compliance with resolution requirements. A blank, white sheet of paper shall be photographed at the beginning of each roll to test the uniformity of the illumination and the cleanliness of the camera's optical system. Resolution test targets shall be filmed near the beginning and end of each roll. Targets used shall be either the NIST SRM 1010A Microcopy Resolution Test Chart or an equivalent for planetary cameras such as the AIIM X303 test chart and the AIIM X112 (plastic target) or AIIM X113 (paper target) or their equivalents for rotary cameras. Do not use photostatic or electrostatic copies of resolution charts. Identification targets shall state the name of the county and office; name and title of the records custodian responsible for the records at the time of filming; reduction ratio; and record series title, dates, and such volumes or serial numbers needed to clearly identify the records. Each roll shall end with a declaration by the camera operator. The declaration shall include the operator's signature, date the declaration was filmed, and restatement of records filmed.

Retakes and retake targets should normally be spliced onto the beginning of the roll in which the errors occurred, preceding the start target. The use of intelligent/blip encoded microfilm may necessitate the use of different retake procedures.

7.2 Filming sequence should be:

- 1) blank white sheet of paper
- 2) start target
- 3) roll number target
- 4) resolution test target
- 5) reduction ratio target
- 6) agency and record series identification target(s)
- 7) if applicable, "continued from preceding roll" target--instances where volume is filmed on more than one roll
- 8) the text
- 9) if end of book, film "end of volume" target-if not end of volume, but end of roll coming, film "continued on next roll" target
- 10) if end of roll, film the declaration by the camera operator, the resolution target, and the "end of roll" target
- 11) raster COM microforms should also contain a target stating the name of the conversion vendor; and a target indicating the dots inch (dpi) at which the conversion was done, in addition to proper identification targets (no resolution or scanner target should be overlaid on the microform)

8. Splices

Splicing of archival security microfilm rolls should be avoided, but if splicing is necessary, care should be taken to keep the number of splices to a maximum four per roll. Ultrasonic splicing meets standards for polyester base film.

9. Quality Control Practices and Procedures

9.1 Procedures to be followed in establishing and operating a microfilm program should conform to appropriate recommendations contained in ANSI/AIIM MS23-1991 Practice for Operational Procedures/Inspection and Quality Control of First-generation, Silver Microfilm of Documents. Each camera negative shall be checked for proper identification targets, density, resolution and visual defects.

9.2 The ability of archival security microfilm copies of permanent records to serve as a substitute for the original records shall be adequately confirmed and documented. Quality control logs for such film shall be maintained to document adherence to standards (see Appendix IV). At a minimum, such logs should verify the following:

9.2.1 The images are legible and can serve the purposes for which the original records were created or maintained.

9.2.2 Roll film contains all required identification, technical and declaratory targets.

9.2.3 Density readings were taken on a blank white sheet of paper at the beginning of the roll, and, at a minimum, on the background of document images at the beginning, middle, and end of each roll.

9.2.4 A Base-plus-Fog Density Reading ( $D_{min}$ ) for each roll.

9.2.5 The number of the pattern resolved from a reading of the resolution test chart and the reduction ratio on each roll.

9.2.6 Methylene Blue tests are being done on a regular basis. Testing should be done by an outside laboratory at a minimum on a monthly basis. Appropriate sample strips must be inspected within fourteen days after processing.

Certificates from the laboratory, documenting that the microfilm passed the methylene blue test, should be maintained along with the logs. The certificates should include the name of the agency whose film was processed, processing date, date of methylene blue test, test results, processor used and the signature of the person who did the test.

10. Formats and Headings for Unitized Microfilm Systems (aperture cards, microfiche and jacketed film)

Unitized microfilm systems records should be designed and administered so that the resulting microfilm file is an accurate representation of the original records. Any indexes, registers, or other finding aids should be microfilmed and located in a readily identifiable place within the collection of microfilmed records. Formats for microfiche should conform to ANSI/AIIM MS5-1992. The data on heading or title areas on all microforms should be legible without magnification. The data should conform to ANSI/AIIM MS19-1993.

11. Computer Output Silver Gelatin (1N) Microfilm Procedures

COM programs should conform to standards set down in ANSI/AIIM MS1-1988. Density of Computer-Output Microfilm should be between 1.5 and 1.8 (Full Reversal).

12. Storage Conditions for Archival Security Microfilm Copies of Permanent Records

The security copy shall be stored and inspected in conformance with ANSI IT9.11-1991, ANSI IT9.2-1991 and ANSI/AIIM MS45-1990.

12.1 Temperature/humidity shall not exceed 70 degrees/40 percent. Fluctuations shall not exceed 5 degrees/5 percent over a 24-hour period.

12.2 Air-conditioning with filtration system shall be utilized to remove gaseous impurities.

12.3 Facility shall provide protection from fire, theft and natural disaster.

12.4 The security microfilm copy shall be maintained in a separate building from the user copy.

12.5 Film shall be stored in closed containers made of an inert material such as plastic, acid-free paper, or nonferrous metals. Cores or reels shall be noncorroding such as plastic compounds or nonferrous metals. Rubber bands shall not be used to fasten film onto reels or cores.

12.6 Security copy shall not be stored with non-silver film.

12.7 As appropriate, a sampling of randomly selected microforms shall be inspected in conformance with ANSI/AIIM MS45-1990. For each inspection period, a different lot shall be chosen allowing some overlap to note changes in previously inspected film.

13. Security Copies of Vital and Long-Term Records

13.1 The security microfilm copy of long-term records shall be created and stored in conformance with standards for archival security microfilm copies of permanent records. The following sections are applicable to long-term records: Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.1, 10, 11, and 12.

13.2 Long-term records are any records that need to be maintained for more than ten years either in the original or microfilm copy. Security microfilm copies of vital records should be stored where appropriate in conformance with standards for long-term and permanent records. All security microfilm copies of vital records, regardless of retention periods, should be stored in a separate building from the user copy.

14. Short-Term Records

14.1 Short-term records are defined as records that require retention for ten years or less as indicated in the County Records Manual. Silver halide or other films are acceptable as the camera film. Film shall be processed in accordance with applicable ANSI/AIIM standards for their particular film types. The following sections are applicable to short-term records: Sections 4, 6.2, 6.3, 6.4, 7, and 9.1.

15. Reference Copies of Microforms

The standards relating to the film stock, processing, use and storage of archival security microfilm copies of permanent records do not apply to reference, user or additional duplicate copies. These copies may be on film types other than silver-halide, safety base film and should be processed in accordance with applicable ANSI/AIIM standards for their particular film types.

POLICY AND GUIDELINES FOR THE RETENTION AND DISPOSITION OF ORIGINAL COUNTY RECORDS COPIED ONTO OPTICAL IMAGING AND DATA STORAGE SYSTEMS

1. Purpose

Establish and clarify a records management policy for county officers with respect to the retention and ultimate disposition of original records copied onto optical imaging and data storage systems and to records stored on optical disks in order to enable officers to incorporate information retention and retrieval considerations at the earliest possible time into their plans to acquire optical imaging and data storage systems.

2. Objectives

2.1 To integrate records maintained on optical disks into county records management programs.

2.2 To provide information needed by county officers to properly evaluate the effect of optical imaging and data storage systems on their operations.

2.3 To ensure that information stored on optical imaging and data storage systems will be accessible in conformance with records retention and disposition schedules and procedures approved by the County Records Committee.

2.4 To reduce the risks associated with optical imaging and data storage system hardware and software obsolescence.

3. Scope

Applies to all county officers covered by the County Records Act and by Supreme Court Rule of Judicial Administration Pa. R.J.A. No. 507(a).

4. Policy

4.1 Records relating to optical imaging and storage systems, including systems documentation, may be disposed of only in accordance with schedules approved by the County Records Committee.

4.2 Permanent records are those records which have been scheduled for permanent retention either in the original or microform copy by the County Records Committee or by applicable statute and regulation. Long-term records are any records that need to be retained for more than ten years either in the original or microfilm copy.

4.3 County officers are responsible for making provisions to retain either the original copies of permanently valuable records or making archival security microform copies to serve as a substitute. Archival security microform copies must be created and maintained in conformance with applicable standards approved by the County Records Committee.

4.4 In those instances where the optical disk is the original medium for records scheduled for permanent retention, such as the procedural or transactional recording of deeds, provisions must be made to retain paper copies of such records or to create archival security microfilm copies of the records. The preferred strategy for ensuring the creation of an archival security microfilm copy would require the retention of the original instrument or a paper copy made from the original instrument, until the film copy has been verified. The use of raster computer output microfilm meeting appropriate standards is acceptable as the security copy (see ANSI/AIIM MS48).

4.5 With certain exceptions, county officers will not have to make provisions to retain non-permanent records copied onto optical disks in a human-readable format. There are situations which, due to the unusually vital nature of the records or their relatively long retention period, will make it necessary to require the retention of a human-readable copy.

5. Optical Imaging and Data Storage Guidelines

5.1 A county officer who purchases and operates an optical imaging and data storage system must provide for the usability of image and index data over time by:

5.1.1 Management. In order to maintain access to digital information stored on optical media, a county officer must ensure that:

5.1.1a All information retention requirements and procedures established by the County Records Committee are addressed during the system planning.

5.1.1b Where possible, systems should be built from hardware and software components that conform to non-proprietary and/or commonly accepted standards, and

5.1.1c Vendors should deposit a copy of computer source code and associated documentation with the county for use in the event of the vendor's business failure.

5.1.2 Preservation Strategy. To ensure that records stored on optical media are preserved, a county officer must:

5.1.2a Maintain proper care and handling procedures for optical media by keeping a clean, dust-free environment for all equipment and prohibit eating, drinking or smoking in the area.

5.1.3 Migration Strategy. To ensure access to long-term records, a county officer must provide a means to:

5.1.3a Upgrade equipment as technology evolves and periodically recopy optical media as required, or

5.1.3b Recopy optical media (based upon projected longevity of the optical disk) every ten years, or

5.1.3c Transfer data from an obsolete generation of optical technology to a newly emerging generation, in some cases bypassing the generation that is mature, but at risk of becoming obsolete.

5.1.4 Image File Headers. The use of proprietary image file headers will make it difficult to ensure the long-term intelligibility of digital images when system upgrades or modifications occur, therefore a county officer must:

5.1.4a Require use of a non-proprietary image file header label, or

5.1.4b Require the system developer to provide a bridge to a non-proprietary image file header label, or

5.1.4c Require the system developer to supply a detailed definition of image file header label structure

5.1.5 Error Detection and Correction. The ability to predict the point at which optical media is no longer readable is critical so that media recopying can take place. A county officer must:

5.1.5a Specify that the SCSI (Small Computer System Interface - the primary communications interface used in optical systems) command "Write and Verify" is used when writing data to optical media.

5.1.5b Acquire a utility program that monitors the amount of disk space used to relocate data sectors as errors are detected, and

5.1.5c Ensure through systems operations procedures that current readability is maintained through periodic copying when the relocation table reaches 70% capacity.

5.2 County officers must protect the quality of digital images and data captured and stored by an optical imaging and data storage system, by providing for:

5.2.1 Input Quality Control. Regular equipment maintenance is a necessary process control procedure under which optical imaging and data storage systems should operate. A county officer must:

5.2.1a Ensure that the optical system receives periodic maintenance,

5.2.1b Ensure that the optical drives are recalibrated annually or more frequently based upon an "hours in use" formula,

5.2.1c Ensure that quality control evaluation of each scanned image and related index data is performed prior to writing image data to optical media,

5.2.1d Evaluate the scanner quality based on standard procedures recommended in ANSI/AIIM MS44-1988, Recommended Practice for Quality Control of Image Scanners (ANSI- American National Standards Institute). ANSI is composed of representatives from industry, technical societies, consumer organizations and government agencies. AIIM-Association for Information and Image Management (formerly National Micrographics Association - NMA).

5.2.2 Scanning Density. Scanning density is vital to ensure image legibility. A county officer must:

5.2.2a Employ a scanning density of 200 dots per inch (dpi) for office documents that contain no type fonts smaller than six (6) point,

5.2.2b Employ a higher scanning density (300 dpi or 600 dpi) as needed for engineering drawings, maps, and documents with type fonts smaller than six (6) point or significant background detail, and

5.2.2c Validate the selected scanning density with actual document tests.

5.2.3 Scanner Color Spectrum. Because some digital scanners may not capture the full color spectrum - especially yellow and sepia tones - it is possible to lose significant detail in scanning a document containing certain colors. Therefore, before launching a document conversion project a county officer must:

5.2.3a Verify scanner capability and hardware modification requirements by conducting a test of selected documents.

5.2.4 Gray Scale. Use of the scale is necessary when scanning continuous tone photographs. A low scanning density is used in this process, which would reduce the quality of other images scanned. Except in circumstances where the characteristics of the original document (i.e., shading, color) are beyond the receiving office's control, a county officer must:

5.2.4a Restrict the use of the gray scale to continuous tone photographs except in those instances where the use of the gray scale promotes readability of text documents.

5.2.5 Image Input Quality. At this time, there are no objective, empirical indicators of acceptable image quality for digitally scanned images. Therefore a county officer must:

5.2.5a Select sample documents based upon levels of legibility (poor to excellent), organize a panel within the office to establish consensus on what settings produce the "best" image for different categories of documents, and use the settings as the operational criteria for acceptable image quality.

5.2.6 Compression Techniques. There are two broad categories of compression techniques - proprietary and standard. Proprietary compression techniques tend to be fast and offer higher compression capabilities but the stored images might not be transportable between different systems. Standardized compression techniques, although they may not be as powerful, support image data transfer between systems that otherwise might be incompatible. There are two international standard compression techniques currently available-CCITT Group 3 and Group 4. Therefore a county officer must:

5.2.6a Require that digital imaging and data storage systems support the prevailing CCITT standards, but

5.2.6b If a proprietary compression technique is unavoidable, require the vendor to specify compression/decompression algorithms that ensure that no information is "lost" during the transmission.

5.3 County officers must provide for the continuing functionality of system components, over time by:

5.3.1 Open Systems. Open systems architecture is defined as a systems design approach that permits users to interchange system hardware components with minimal impact on the primary operating software and to upgrade the system over time without risk of data loss. A county officer must:

5.3.1a Require an open systems architecture for new optical media applications, or

5.3.1b Require vendors to provide a bridge to systems with non-proprietary configurations.

5.3.2 Backward Compatibility. Obsolescence of the technology is a major consideration of any imaging or data storage system design. Its impact can be minimized by requiring a backward compatibility - that the optical imaging and data storage system is able to read and convert information written by an older generation of technology to a newer one. Therefore a county officer must:

5.3.2a Require system upgrades or new systems to provide backward compatibility to the existing system, or

5.3.2b When necessary, require vendors to guarantee conversion of 100 percent of extant image and index data to the new system if such a system cannot provide hardware compatibility.

5.3.3 Small Computer System Interface. The Small Computer System Interface (SCSI) is the communications interface used in many optical media systems. It is the primary mechanism that enables drives and other peripheral devices from different manufacturers to communicate with each other. However, since differences between interface standards restrict compatibility, a county officer must:

5.3.3a Require system manufacturers and integrators to provide complete documentation about the specific hardware and software SCSI interface used.

5.3.4 Location of Index Database. To ensure that the index information will not be lost, a county officer must:

5.3.4a For processing purposes, store index data on the system's mass storage device (i.e., hard drive), or

5.3.4b For fail-safe indexing, write index data for each optical disk at multiple locations on that disk.

5.3.5 Technical Documentation. To ensure that all technical information will be available, a county officer must:

5.3.5a Require delivery of a complete set of documentation (including source code, object code, and maintenance documentation) to the organization responsible for operation of an optical media application system, and

5.3.5b Document all aspects of the design and use, including administrative procedures for digital imaging, retrieval, and storage; technical system specifications; problems encountered over time; and measures taken to address them, including hardware and software modifications.

5.4 County officers must provide for the stability of optical media, by:

5.4.1 Recording Performance. Write once, read many times (WORM) and rewritable optical media recording technologies each offer advantages and disadvantages. The selection of WORM or rewritable recording must be linked to the user's application requirements, available resources, and the level of standardization achieved by the optical media technologies. It is possible that accidental or intentional erasure of data stored on rewritable media could occur and this must be taken into account, particularly when the records have substantial legal, financial, or other long-term value. A county officer must:

5.4.1a Require the use of WORM technology for records of long-term legal, financial or archival research value, and

5.4.1b Ensure that read/write privileges are carefully controlled and that an audit trail of rewrites is maintained when rewritable technology is used.

5.4.2 Disk Substrate Composition. Optical disks are manufactured from a variety of materials. Each substrate offers advantages and disadvantages. Since all three types are likely to outlast the hardware and software components of the full system when they are properly stored, county officers may:

5.4.2a Use polycarbonate, tempered glass or aluminum substrates.

5.4.3 Jukebox System. A jukebox storage system is not appropriate when simultaneous, on-line access to information is required. Neither is a jukebox storage system required when the access delays and risks inherent in the manual selection, insertion, and refiling of optical disks are acceptable to managers and users. Where it is important to maintain physical control of optical disks during use, a jukebox storage system may be appropriate. Therefore a county officer should use a jukebox only:

5.4.3a When rapid access or physical control of numerous optical disks is required, or

5.4.3b When a large volume of records is to be stored, or

5.4.3c When multiple users or networking to various offices may dictate its use.

5.4.4 Durability. Durability is defined as the shelf life before writing plus the post-write life of the optical disk. To ensure maximum usability, the county officer must:

5.4.4a Require the acquisition and use of optical media with a pre-write shelf life of at least five years, and

5.4.4b Require the use of optical media with a minimum of post-write life of twenty years based upon accelerated aging tests that apply to specific locations of the media surface.

5.4.5 Storage Environment. Optical media should be stored in a protected environment. Therefore a county officer must:

5.4.5a Store optical media in areas with stable room temperatures (65 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit) where the relative humidity does not exceed 50 percent and does not fall below 30 percent.

5.4.5b Not locate optical systems near areas of electromagnetic radiation, such as transformers, or areas of high radio frequency radiation.

5.4.5c Periodically clean optical media to remove dust and other particulates (e.g., fingerprints if media are handled).

SECTION 2:
RECORDS RETENTION
AND DISPOSITION
SCHEDULES

RECORDS RETENTION AND DISPOSITION SCHEDULES

Scope

This section applies to County Commissioners; County Councils; County Executives; Controllers; County Auditors; Clerks of Courts, and Clerks of the Criminal Division in home rule counties; Coroners; District Attorneys; Jury Commissioners; Prothonotaries, and Clerks of the Civil Division in home rule counties; Recorders of Deeds; Registers of Wills and Clerks of the Orphans' Court; Sheriffs; Full-Time County Health Departments; Treasurers and related Administrative Officers, Authorities, Boards and Commissions.

Disposition Procedures And Other Retention Requirements

The provisions found in Section 1 relating to disposition procedures, microfilm standards, audit and other legal requirements, optical imaging policy and guidelines, the standards and procedures for electronic records, and the retention and disposition of electronic mail (e-mail), must also be consulted and adhered to when disposing of records covered under this section.

Officers should consult with the State Archives when disposing of county records not covered in Section 2.

ADMINISTRATIVE AND LEGAL RECORDS

AL-1 Administrative And Subject Files

Often referred to as Administrative Files, General Correspondence, Program Files or Subject Files. May include correspondence, reports, program forms and other records created or received in the course of administering specific programs and providing basic county services. Portions of a file or the complete file may contain records which summarize primary program activity and functions such as annual departmental/office reports, procedural manuals, long-term studies or comprehensive program assessment studies, runs of bulletins/newsletters and other published materials created in connection with special events or the administration of on-going programs, and correspondence documenting agency policy. Such files may also include or consist primarily of routine correspondence; replies not part of a specific case file; communications on supply, maintenance and other internal operations matters; correspondence of a transitory nature having no value after an action is completed; and general housekeeping records. Files may even include items such as technical or professional publications maintained solely for reference purposes which are not considered to be "records" under the County Records Act.

(1) Records that summarize the origin and administration of major county policies and programs. Retain permanently for administrative and historical purposes.

(2) Routine correspondence and program files and housekeeping records. Retain as long as of administrative value.

AL-2 Agendas

Includes agendas for meetings of commissioners, boards, agencies, and committees.

Retain one copy permanently if not included with minutes. Retain duplicate copies as long as of administrative value.

AL-3 Bonds, Performance And Security

Includes bonds of certain elected officials and security bonds for employees handling large sums of money. Also includes bonds posted by contractors.

Retain 6 years after expiration. If bonds are a part of a contract, retain as prescribed by the retention period for contracts.

AL-4 Bridge Proceedings

Includes construction, inspection and maintenance records documenting the history of county bridges.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-5 Contract Files

Consists of advertisements; instructions to bidders; specifications; bids and proposals; bid summaries and tabulation sheets; signed original contracts, leases or agreements; and supporting workpapers. Relates to construction of county buildings and public works projects and other county activities.

(1) Bids, Proposals, Price Quotations, and Qualified Contractor Memoranda

If successful - Retain 6 years after termination of general written contracts. Retain 12 years after termination of construction contracts.

If unsuccessful - Retain 3 years after job completion.

(2) Contracts and Agreements

Retain general written contracts 6 years after termination. Retain construction contracts 12 years after termination.

AL-6 County Disposal Certification Request Forms/Logs

Includes disposal forms and logs submitted to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission in compliance with the County Records Act.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-7 County Obligations

Relates to the financing of county projects through bonded indebtedness. May include proposals, correspondence, and the original financial instruments.

(1) Bonds and Coupons

Retain 6 years after cancellation.

(2) Bond Ledgers

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

(3) Cancelled Notes

Retain 6 years.

AL-8 Deeds To County-Owned Property

Includes date, names of grantors and grantees, property description and location, amount of sale, conditions and terms of deed, date recorded and signature of Recorder.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-9 Disaster Plans For County Facilities

Includes information on disaster response team; emergency procedures; records priorities; rehabilitation/recovery methods; and may include information on supplies and services as well as floor plans.

Retain until superseded or obsolete.

AL-10 Easements

Used to document county's right to limited use of private property. Shows date, names and signatures of parties involved, location of property and terms of agreement.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-11 Hazardous Substance Survey Forms

Indicates hazardous substances present at workplaces and their chemical abstract service numbers, chemical names, and physical and health hazards. Required by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, Worker and Community Right To Know Program.

Retain 30 years. If used as health and exposure record for employee involved in a specific incident, retain 30 years after termination of employment. (See Personnel Records found in Section 2, Employee Medical Records)

AL-12 Insurance Claims And Policies

Includes policies or contracts of insurance; claims; and supporting papers for liability, property and other areas of county operations.

Retain claims 6 years after final settlement. Retain policies, contracts and supporting papers 6 years after expiration provided all claims have been settled.

AL-13 Liquid Fuels Tax Records

Usually consists of copies of vouchers and cancelled checks, bank statements, bills, correspondence with the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation regarding county aid applications and other records pertaining to the use of Liquid Fuels Tax Funds.

Retain 7 years.

AL-14 Master Property And Equipment/Fixed Assets Inventories

Listing of all county-owned equipment and physical property. Generally includes inventories of vehicles showing vehicle number, year, model, date purchased, vendor and cost.

Descriptions of other equipment include quantity, description, make, model number, serial number, date purchased, unit cost, invoice number, vendor and signature of responsible custodian. May also include inventory of fixed assets.

Retain property and equipment inventories 5 years after superseded or obsolete. Retain fixed assets inventories permanently for administrative and historical purposes.

AL-15 Material Safety Data Sheets

Includes information supplied by manufacturers on all hazardous substances in particular products used in the workplace. Indicates product identification; ingredients; fire, explosion and reactivity data; environmental and precautionary information; health hazard data; and suggested first aid. Used to comply with the U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Health and Safety Administration Regulations.

Retain 30 years. If used as health and exposure record for employee involved in a specific incident, retain 30 years after termination of employment. (See Personnel Records found in Section 2, Employee Medical Records)

AL-16 Minutes Of Board Of County Commissioners/County Council

Record of the Board of County Commissioners/County Council meeting including date, names of members present and absent, issues discussed, motions, resolutions, reports and actions taken. Relates to contracts and bids, appropriations, budgets, appointments, taxation, personnel transactions, audits, bonds, sale or lease of land, and other administrative activities requiring approval of the commissioners or council members.

(1) Official Minutes

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

(2) Recordings of Public Meetings

Retain recordings of public meetings used in the preparation of the official minutes until the official minutes are approved. Retain recordings of public meetings made for other purposes as long as of administrative value.

AL-17 Minutes Of Other County Boards And Commissions

Includes records of meetings of other boards and commissions indicating date, names of members present and absent, issues discussed, motions, reports and actions taken.

(1) Official Minutes

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

(2) Recordings of Public Meetings

Retain recordings of public meetings used in the preparation of the official minutes until the official minutes are approved. Retain recordings of public meetings made for other purposes as long as of administrative value.

AL-18 Orders Issued By County Commissioners/County Council

Includes Executive Orders issued by County Commissioners/Council containing directives, policies and procedures for implementation in county government.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-19 Photographs

Includes photographs of county officials, buildings, public celebrations, etc.

Retain as long as of administrative value; then contact State Archives regarding historical value.

AL-20 Press Releases

Announcing matters related to the county's business or administrative operations, the release indicates date, details of event or activity, and officials involved.

Retain as long as of administrative value.

AL-21 Proclamations And Letters Of Commendation

Includes official proclamations relating to county events and letters of commendation for employees, citizens, etc.

Retain permanently for administrative and historical purposes.

AL-22 Public Hearing Notices And Proofs Of Publication

Notice contains information such as hearing date, location and time. Proof of publication includes documentation verifying that proper public notice was given.

Retain 10 years.

AL-23 Resolutions And Ordinances

Consists of resolutions and ordinances indicating date, issue or policy involved, and appropriate signatures. Relates to various aspects of county administration and business.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-24 Sales And Use Tax Exemption Certificates

Department of Revenue form includes type of expenditure, name and address of county, official's title and signature.

Retain 3 years from the end of the year in which the last sale or lease takes place.

AL-25 Tax Claim Deeds

Consists of deeds for property transferred to the County Commissioners/County Council as a result of sales for delinquent taxes.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AL-26 Grant Administration Records

Includes fiscal and program records used to administer grants from all funding sources.

Comply with retention requirements promulgated by the appropriate administering/funding/licensing agency.

AL-27 Recycling Program Records

Retain 10 years.

AL-28 Right to Know Requests

Requests for records made pursuant to open records legislation. Includes written request, information submitted with the request, related communications and response.

Retain 2 years.

AGING RECORDS

AG-1 Administrative And Subject Files

See Administrative and Legal Records found in Section 2 for retention guidance. Where applicable, comply with retention requirements promulgated by the appropriate administering/funding/licensing agency.

AG-2 Client Case Files

Consists of client background information and records regarding services performed, social history, service plans, intake/termination forms, client financial information and progress notes.

Comply with retention requirements promulgated by the appropriate administering/funding/licensing agency.

AG-3 Fiscal Records

Includes standard accounting and financial records relating to the funds of the Agency on Aging.

See Financial Records, Payroll Records, and Purchasing Records found in Section 2 for retention guidance. Where applicable, comply with retention requirements promulgated by the appropriate administering/funding/licensing agency.

AG-4 Minutes Of Agency On Aging Advisory Board

Record of Advisory Board meeting including date, names of members present and absent, issues discussed, motions, reports and actions taken.

Retain permanently for administrative, legal and historical purposes.

AG-5 Personnel Records

Generally includes individual's application for employment, employee benefit information, disciplinary records, work/salary history summary, performance appraisals, etc.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX I (a)

COUNTY RECORDS ACT*

AN ACT, creating a county records committee; imposing powers and duties upon it; authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to assist and cooperate with it; defining county records; and authorizing the disposition of certain county records by county officers in counties of the second to eighth class.

Section 1. There is hereby created a county records committee which shall consist of fifteen members who shall be appointed by the Governor for a term of four years. One member of the committee shall be the Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, or his judicial representative, one a representative of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, one an attorney, one a Prothonotary, one a clerk of courts, one a county commissioner, one a county controller or auditor, one a district attorney, one a county treasurer, one a sheriff, one a register of wills, one a recorder of deeds, one a jury commissioner, one a coroner, and the other a member of the general public. The committee shall select one of its members to serve as chairman. Within the means at its command, the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission shall assist and cooperate with the county records committee by providing for its necessary expenses, by providing for examining and inventorying county records for the preparation of schedules, and by enforcing such schedules and procedures as the county records committee may make or revise under the provisions of this act.

Section 2. The following words and phrases when used in this act shall have the meanings given to them in this section unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Commission" – The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission of the Commonwealth.

"County" – Any county of the second through eighth class, including any of such counties as may have adopted a home rule charter.

"County records" – Any papers, dockets, books, maps, photographs or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received in any office of county government in pursuance of law or in connection with transactions of public business in the exercise of its legitimate functions and the discharge of its responsibilities.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the committee to meet at least once a year to make or revise schedules setting forth the conditions under which county records filed in any office of county government may be disposed of. Meetings of the committee shall be called by the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission; however, meetings may also be called by the chairman or by a majority of the members of the committee whenever the chairman or the majority of members deems it necessary.

Section 4. County officers in counties, as defined in this act, may dispose of all county records in their custody, provided they follow the schedules and procedures prescribed by the county records committee and maintain a log of individual disposition actions involving nonpermanent records. Copies of such logs, in a form approved by the committee, shall be submitted annually to the commission. Original records scheduled for permanent retention may be disposed of if the county officer creates and maintains a copy of the original in conformance with section 4.1 and receives written permission from the commission. Written permission from the commission is required only for disposition actions involving records scheduled for permanent retention, records not listed on the schedules and records selected for transfer to the State Archives.

Section 4.1. Records may be recorded, copied or recopied in conformance with the act of May 9, 1949 (P.L. 908, No. 250), entitled "An act relating to public records of political subdivisions other than cities and counties of the first class; authorizing the recording and copying of documents, plats, papers and instruments of writing by photostatic, photographic, microfilm or other mechanical process, and the admissibility thereof and enlargements thereof in evidence; providing for the storage of duplicates and sale of microfilm copies of official records and for the destruction of other records deemed valueless; and providing for the services of the Department of Property and Supplies to political subdivisions," and applicable policies, standards and procedures adopted by the Committee. In the event of any such destruction or other disposition of any public records under the provisions of this section, the copy shall be receivable in evidence in any court or proceeding and shall have the same force and effect as though the original public record had been there produced and proved.

Section 5. No county officer shall be held liable on his official bond or in any way, either civil or criminal, because of the disposition of records, provided he disposes of the records in accordance with the schedules adopted by the committee.

Section 6. All acts and parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith.

Section 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

*Act No. 407 was approved August 14, 1963. The act was amended on November 30, 1967 by Act No. 300, on November 22, 1968 by Act No. 335, on November 23, 1976 by Act No. 258, and on February 18, 1998 by Act No. 29.

UTILIZING THE MICROFILM QUALITY INSPECTION REPORT FORM

County:

Fill in the name of the County.

Office/Department:

Office should correspond to the highest organizational units within a county. This would normally correspond to the traditional row offices – Prothonotary, Recorder of Deeds, Treasurer, etc.

Record Series:

Title of records being filmed – Deed Books, Minutes of the Board of County Commissioners, Civil Case Files, etc. If more than one series per roll, list all titles (e.g., Civil Case Files / Charters / Miscellaneous Dockets).

Inspected:

If inspected by county personnel, check the "Inhouse" box. If performed by outside vendor, check "Service Bureau" box and fill in vendor's name and address.

Roll Number:

Your roll number.

Reduction Ratio:

Linear ratio of the size of the original document to the size of the microfilm image – expressed as 1:24 or 24x, etc.

Resolution:

The ability of a camera or film to record fine detail. Utilizing a microscope with a resolving power 60x to 120x, record the number of the pattern resolved (it is not necessary to determine lines per millimeter) using an acceptable resolution test chart as per ANSI/AIIM MS23-1991.

Density:

The light-absorbing or light-reflecting characteristics of a photographic image. Density readings should be taken on a blank white sheet of paper at the beginning of the roll, and, at a minimum, on the background of document images at the beginning, middle, and end of each roll.

Base + Fog Density:

The density of unexposed film which has been processed. A Base + Fog Density reading should be taken on every roll of film. The reading should be taken in the clear area between two frames of a processed roll of film or in the clear area of the leader.

Date Filmed:

Use the date on the Declaration by the Camera Operator.

Scratches, Blurred Pages - Other:

A general technical inspection should assure that the film is free of these elements. These and other problems are listed in ANSI/AIIM MS23-1991.

Comments:

This section should be used to identify other problems with the film, and part of the section could even be used to further identify the contents of the roll if needed.

Legibility:

Mark either "S" for satisfactory or "U" for unsatisfactory. Microimages should contain all of the recorded information shown on the originals and must be able to serve the purposes for which the original records were created or maintained. Microfilm images should be free of obstructions, shadows or glare which could further impair the legibility of the document. Obviously, unsatisfactory rolls are unacceptable and must be refiled.

Targets:

Mark "S" for satisfactory or "U" for unsatisfactory. Roll must contain all the recommended information, technical, and certification targets to be rated satisfactory. See Appendix III of the County Records Manual for sample targets.

Inspector's Initials:

Person responsible for quality check of the film (County or Vendor) should initial here. If part of inspection is performed in-house and part by vendor, both employees should initial here.

Methylene Blue Testing:

The most commonly used method to test whether processed silver microfilm has been properly washed is to make a chemical test for residual thiosulfate ion called the Methylene Blue Test. If a methylene blue test has been done for this series, attach copy of test certification. Methylene blue testing should be done on a regular basis by processing vendor or municipal microfilm department.

APPENDIX V

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Access Time. (1) Time it takes to get an instruction or a unit of data from computer memory to the processing unit of a computer. (2) Time it takes to get a unit of data from a direct access storage device to computer memory.

AIIM. Acronym for Association for Information and Image Management. Trade association and professional society for the micrographics, optical disk and electronic image management markets.

Algorithm. Mathematical formula or procedure.

ANSI. Acronym for American National Standards Institute. ANSI is a voluntary nonprofit consensus standards organization which coordinates private-sector standards activities and serves all industries and users in the United States. ANSI is the primary interface with the U.S. Government on matters relating to standards and also is the recognized representative to the International Organization for Standardization (ISO).

Aperture card. (1) A card with a rectangular opening(s) specifically prepared for the mounting or insertion of microfilm. (2) A processable card of standard dimensions into which microfilm frames can be inserted.

Archival quality. The ability of a processed print or film to permanently retain its original characteristics. The ability to resist deterioration.

Array. An arrangement of elements in one or more dimensions.

ASCII. Acronym for American Standard Code for Information Interchange - American National Standard binary-coding scheme consisting of 128 eight-bit patterns (7-bits plus a parity check bit) for printable characters and control of equipment functions.

Base. Transparent plastic material, usually of cellulose triacetate or polyester, upon which a photographic emulsion or other material may be coated.

Baud. Unit of transmission speed equal to the number of signal events per second.

Binary. Pertaining to a system of numbers with a base of two.

Binary digit (bit). Represents the binary code (0 or 1) with which the computer works.

Bit-Map. Method of representing images by assigning an individual memory location for each picture element (pixel).

Book cradle. A device which holds a large bound book open and flat during filming with a planetary camera.

Byte. 1) Group of binary digits (bits), processed or operating together. 2) Term used to describe one character of information.

Camera microfilm. First generation microfilm; also called the master film.

Camera-processor. A device which performs both filming and processing within one unit.

Cartridge. A container enclosing processed microforms, designed to be inserted into readers, reader-printers and retrieval devices. When applied to roll microfilm, it describes a single-core device.

Cassette. (1) A double core container enclosing processed roll microfilm, designed to be inserted into readers, reader-printers and retrieval devices. (2) A lightproof container of rigid metal or plastic containing film for daylight loading in cameras. (3) A container for magnetic tape.

CCITT. Acronym for Consultative Committee for International Telegraph & Telephone. This group establishes international standards for telecommunications including the Group III and Group IV digital standards that cover data compression and decompression.

CD-ROM. Acronym for Compact Disk-Read Only Memory. Optical disk that is created by a mastering process and used for reading.

CD-WORM. Acronym for Compact Disk-Write Once Read Many. An optical disk that is user written and then available for reading.

Cellulose ester. A film base composed mainly of cellulose esters of acetic, propionic or butyric acids or mixtures thereof.

Cine mode. Vertical Mode. (1) The arrangement of images on roll microfilm in which the lines of print or writing are perpendicular to the length of the film for horizontal script and parallel for vertical script. (2) The arrangement of images on a microfiche in which the first microimage is in the top left-hand corner of the grid pattern and succeeding microimages appear in sequence from top to bottom and in columns from left to right.

Comic mode. Horizontal Mode. (1) The arrangement of images on roll microfilm in which the lines of print or writing are parallel to the length of the film for horizontal script and perpendicular for vertical script. (2) The arrangement of images on a microfiche in which the first microimage is in the top left-hand corner of the grid pattern and succeeding microimages appear in sequence from left to right and in rows from top to bottom.

Computer Micrographics. Branch of micrographics dealing with microforms that are generated, stored, retrieved or manipulated with the aid of computer techniques.

Computer-Output Microfilm (COM). Microforms containing data produced by a recorder from computer-generated electrical signals.

Data. Symbols or representations of facts or ideas that can be communicated, interpreted, or processed by manual or automated means. Often associated with electronic data or with statistics or measurements.

Data Base. A set of data, consisting of at least one file or of a group of integrated files, usually stored in one location and made available to several users at the same time for various applications.

Data Base Management System. A software system used to access and retrieve data stored in a database.

Data Compression. Conversion of a digital image to a lower number of bits for storage.

Data File. An organized collection of related data, usually arranged into logical records that are stored together and treated as a unit.

Densitometer. A device used to measure the optical density of an image or base by measuring the amount of light reflected or transmitted.

Dense (Density). (1) The light-absorbing or light-reflecting characteristics of a photographic image. (2) The relation of amount of text to non-text areas on a document.

Diazo Film. A slow print film, sensitized by a coating of diazonium salts which, subsequent to exposure to light and development, forms an image. Diazo film generally produces nonreversed images; i.e., a positive image will produce a positive image and a negative image will produce a negative image.

Digital. Use of binary code to record information. "Information" can be text in a binary code, e.g., ASCII, or images in bit-mapped form or sound in a sampled digital form or video.

Digitize. Process of representing images as a matrix of picture elements (pixels), where each pixel is small enough that it can be considered homogeneous and represented by a numeric value, often just 0 or 1.

Dots per inch (dpi). Measure of output device resolution and quality, e.g., number of pixels per inch on display device. Measures the number of dots horizontally and vertically.

Drive. Machine for reading and, when possible, writing a data storage medium (disk, tape, card or otherwise); can be optical, magnetic, etc.

Dry-process silver film. A nongelatin silver film that is developed by application of heat.

Duplicate. (1) A copy of a microform made by contact printing or by optical means. (2) To make multiple copies of a document or microfilm, usually with the aid of the master film or intermediate copies.

EBCDIC. Acronym for Extended Binary Coded Decimal Interchange Code. 8-bit computer code that is used to represent upper and lowercase characters and special symbols.

Electronic Records. Records stored in a form that only a computer can process. Also called machine-readable records or Electronic Data Processing (EDP) records.

Electronic Records System. Information system that produces, manipulates, or stores auditable records of a county's transactions by using a computer.

Emulsion. A single- or multi-layered coating consisting of light-sensitive materials in a medium carried as a thin layer on a film base.

Exposure. (1) The act of exposing a sensitive material to light/radiant energy. (2) The time during which a sensitized material is subjected to the action of radiation. (3) The product of radiation intensity and the time during which it acts on the photosensitive material.

Eye loupe. (Measuring Magnifier) A hand-held magnifying glass with a power of 6 to 15x.

Generation. One of the successive stages of photographic reproduction. The first generation is the camera film. Copies made from this first generation are second generation, etc.

Gray Scale. Array of adjacent neutral density areas varying by a predetermined rate or step from black to white and used to expose film to determine its sensitometric curve.

Hardcopy. (1) An enlarged reproduction from a microform usually on paper. (2) A printed copy of machine output in a readable form, for example, output from a computer printer.

Image. (1) A representation of information produced by light/radiant energy. (2) In electronic imaging, digital representation of a document.

Image Conversion. In electronic imaging, the operation of converting a human readable image on paper or a microform to a bit-map.

Image Enhancement. The process of cleaning up or intensifying a digital image using algorithms to improve legibility.

Image File Headers. Analogous to a "table of contents" describing the set of scanned images stored on a disk. Data may include such items as the file size, compression formula, and image density and is used to link a user's request for an image to a specific location on the storage device.

Information. Data and documents that have been given value through analysis, interpretation or compilation in a meaningful form.

Information System. Logical group of subsystems and data required to support the data needs of one or more business processes.

Integrated Information System. Information systems that combines two or more technologies or subsystems, e.g., CD-ROM and microcomputer.

ISO. Acronym for International Organization for Standardization. ISO produces standards or recommendations, including those that impact the information technology field, which are the result of free and open agreement among nations. Its purpose is to coordinate standardization efforts and encourage cooperation in economic, intellectual, technological, and scientific endeavors.

Jacket. A flat, transparent, plastic carrier with single or multiple film channels made to hold single or multiple microfilm images.

Jukebox. Automated device for housing multiple optical disks and one or more read/write drives.

LAN. Acronym for Local Area Network. Data communication network of connected devices within a small area, such as a building or group of buildings.

Laser. Source that produces light that is monochromatic (of only one wavelength) and highly coherent (with waves in phase both temporally and spatially). Acronym for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

Laser-beam COM recorder. COM recorder that uses a laser beam to generate images directly on film.

LE rating. Acronym for Life Expectancy rating. The LE rating is the life expectancy of film when stored under specified storage conditions. For example, film with an LE rating of 100 would have an estimated life expectancy of 100 years when stored under recommended storage conditions.

Light box. A device for inspecting film that provides diffused illumination evenly dispersed over the viewing area.

Master film. Any film, but generally the camera microfilm, used to produce further reproductions, such as intermediates or distribution copies.

Methylene blue. A chemical dye formed during the testing of archival permanence of processed microimages using the methylene-blue method.

Microfiche. A transparent sheet of film with microimages arranged in a grid pattern.

Microfilm. (1) A fine-grain, high-resolution film used to record images reduced in size from the original. (2) A microform consisting of strips of film on rolls that contain multiple microimages. (3) To record microphotographs on film.

Microform. A form, usually film, which contains microimages.

Micrographics. Refers to the techniques associated with the production and handling of microfilm, microfiche and related storage technologies based on retaining a photographic representation on film.

NAPM. Acronym for National Association of Photographic Manufacturers, Inc.

Negative-appearing image. An image in which the lines and characters appear light against a dark background.

NIST. Acronym for National Institute for Standards and Technology. Formerly known as the National Bureau of Standards (NBS), it was established in 1901 to support industry, commerce, scientific institutions, and all branches of Government. NIST laboratories work to advance measurement science and develop standards for industry and commerce.

OCR. Acronym for Optical Character Recognition. Technique by which characters can be machine-identified then converted into computer processable codes (e.g., ASCII, EBCDIC, etc.)

Optical Disk. Medium that will accept and retain information in the form of marks in a recording layer, that can be read with an optical beam. See also compact disk-read only memory, rewritable optical disk and write-once read-many optical disk.

Optical System. Essential and accessory optical elements designed to contribute to the formation of an image.

Packing Density. The determination of the amount of information contained within defined dimensions.

Peripheral Equipment. Supplementary equipment external to a computer that puts data into or accepts data from the computer, such as disk drives and printers.

Pixel. Smallest element of a display surface that can be independently assigned color or intensity.

Planetary camera. A type of microfilm camera in which the document being photographed and the film remain in a stationary position during the exposure. The document is on a plane surface at the time of filming. Also known as a flatbed camera.

Polarity. The change or retention of the dark to light relationship of an image, i.e., a first-generation negative to a second-generation positive indicates a polarity change, while a first-generation negative to a second-generation negative indicates the polarity is retained.

Polyester. A transparent plastic made from polyesters and used as a film base because of its dimensional stability, strength, resistance to tearing and relative nonflammability.

Positive-appearing image. An image in which the lines and characters appear dark against a light background.

Processing. A series of steps involved in the treatment of exposed photographic material to make the latent image visible and ultimately usable, e.g., development, fixing, washing, drying.

Raster. Description of a rectangular or square array formed by a number of horizontal scan lines comprising a number of picture elements. The number of scan lines establishes the vertical dimension of the array and the number of picture elements forms vertical rows which establish the horizontal dimension of the array.

Raster COM (R-COM). Device that produces microforms from any computer-managed pixel image storage device.

Raster COM Recorder. COM recorder that generates microimages from pixel representation.

Recordkeeping System. A set of policies and procedures for organizing and identifying files or documents to speed their retrieval, use and disposition and to provide adequate documentation of the agency's functions and transactions.

Records: Permanent. Records which have been scheduled for permanent retention by the County Records Committee or by applicable statute or regulation.

Records: Vital. Records regardless of archival value that are essential to functions of government during and after an emergency. Also, those records essential to the protection of the rights and interests of that organization and of the individuals for whose rights and interests it has responsibility.

Redox blemish. A microspot formation on silver-gelatin type films caused by air pollution, improper packaging or storage conditions. Synonymous with aging blemishes, measles, microspots and red spots.

Reduction ratio. The relationship (ratio) between the dimensions of the original or master and the corresponding dimensions of the microimage; e.g., reduction ratio is expressed as 1:24.

Residual thiosulfate ion. Ammonium or sodium thiosulfate (hypo) remaining in film or paper after washing. Synonymous with residual hypo.

Resolution. The ability of a photographic system to record fine detail.

Resolving Power. The numeric expression of the ability of an optical or photographic system to distinguish or separate two entities spaced closely together. In micrographics, it is the product of the number of the resolution test pattern resolved in the image multiplied by the reduction and is expressed in line pairs per millimeter.

Rewritable Optical Disk. Optical disk on which data is recorded. The data in specified areas can subsequently be deleted and other data can be recorded.

Roll microfilm. Microfilm that is or can be put on a reel, spool or core.

Rotary camera. A type of microfilm camera that photographs documents while they are being moved by some form of transport mechanism. The document transport mechanism is connected to a film-transport mechanism, and the film also moves during exposure so there is no difference in the rate of relative movement between the film and the image of the document.

Safety film. A comparatively nonflammable film support (base) that meets ANSI requirements for safety film.

Scanner. Device that converts a document into binary (digital) code by detecting and measuring the intensity of light reflected from paper or transmitted through microfilm.

SCSI. Acronym for Small Computer Systems Interface - (pronounced "scuzzy"). Industry standard for connecting peripheral devices and their controllers to a microprocessor. Note: The SCSI defines both hardware and software standards for communication between a host computer and a peripheral.

Silver film. A photographic film containing photosensitive silver compounds suspended in a suitable material. When developed, the image consists of metallic silver.

Silver halide. A compound of silver and one of the following elements known as halogens: chlorine, bromine, iodine, and fluorine.

Splice. A joint made by cementing, taping or welding (heat splice) two pieces of film or paper together so they will function as a single piece when passing through a camera, processing machine, viewer or other apparatus.

Step-and-repeat camera. A type of microfilm camera that can expose a series of separate images on an area of film according to a predetermined format, usually in orderly rows and columns, e.g., microfiche.

System. Organized collection of hardware, software, supplies, people, maintenance, training and policies to accomplish a set of specific functions.

Target. (1) Any document or chart containing identification information, coding or test charts. (2) An aid to technical or bibliographic control that is photographed on the film preceding or following the document.

Text Documents. Narrative or tabular documents, such as letters, memorandums, and reports, in loosely prescribed form and format.

Vesicular film. A film in which the light-sensitive component is suspended in a plastic layer. On exposure, the component creates optical vesicles (bubbles) in the layer. These imperfections form the latent image which becomes visible and permanent by heating the plastic layer and then allowing it to cool.

WORM. Acronym for Write-Once-Read-Many. Digital optical disk on which data is recorded by the user once and can be read many times.

APPENDIX VI (a)

USING THE INDEX

Step One: Look up the record series in the alphabetical index and find the citation that accompanies the entry.

Step Two: Browse down the alphabetical listing of citations (found below) until you find the citation that accompanies the records series. The citation key shows which section and/or county office within the Manual to look in to find the records series.

Step Three: The number that appears in the second part of the citation represents the numerical order of the records series within that particular county office or Manual section.

Example: A citation of (CC-7) would therefore represent the 7th records series in the Clerk of Courts section of the County Records Manual.
