

Cornwall Iron Furnace

94 Rexmont Road Cornwall, PA 17016
Lebanon County

717-272-9711

www.cornwallironfurnace.org

The mission of the Cornwall Iron Furnace is to preserve, collect, and interpret the history of the sole surviving charcoal fueled iron furnace in North America for the diverse people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the visiting public.

Video Title: Cornwall Iron Furnace

Run Time: 12:38

Keywords: Industry, furnace, mining, iron, iron ore, slavery, immigrants, gothic revival architecture, workers, stone buildings, Grubb, Coleman, iron plantation, technology, steam power, preservation, furnace tour, blast, charcoal

Find out More: Bining, Arthur, Pennsylvania Iron Manufacture in the Eighteenth Century, 1977; Dibert, James, Iron, Independence and Inheritance: The Story of Curtis and Peter Grubb, 2000; Dieffenbach, Susan, Cornwall Iron Furnace, 2003; Eggert, Gerald, The Iron Industry in Pennsylvania 1994; Miller, Frederick, The Rise of an Iron Community: An Economic History of Lebanon County Pennsylvania from 1740-1865, 1950; Noble, Richard, The Touch of Time: Robert Habersham Coleman, 1856-1930, 1983; Oblinger, Car, Cornwall: The People and Culture of an Industrial Camelot, 1890-1980, 1984.

Pennsylvania Trails of History
PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL & MUSEUM COMMISSION

